This Week's News...

This week finds us at the end of our half term. It has been a very busy week in the school with all of the classes learning about the 100-year anniversary of Votes for Women. Tuesday was also National Safer Internet Day, so during the week the children learnt more how to keep themselves safe online.

Year 5 gave an incredible performance of The Tempest to their parents.

Today we enjoyed Banksy Class Assembly, which was a great way to finish the half term.

Enjoy your break.

Mr Bell, Mrs Harding and Miss Crank.

Banksy Class Assembly

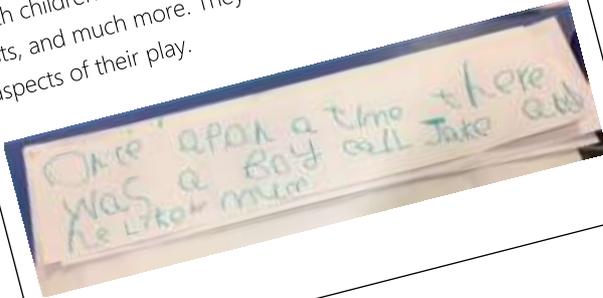

Banksy class showed us a whirlwind tour of their work over the last one and half terms. It included songs written and performed by the children, street dance, Hugo Cabret stories, art and even a debate.

Curriculum

It has been a fantastic half term full of inspirational learning! The children and staff have worked hard on their projects ...

Reception

Writing has been a focus in the Early Years this half term with children being inspired to write books, instructions, lists, and much more. They have been writing in all aspects of their play.

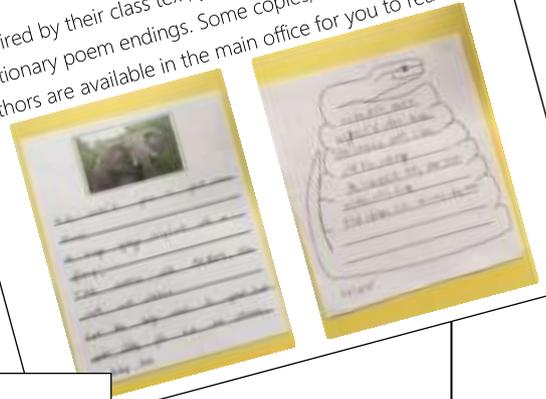

Year 1

Not only did year 1 solve the mystery of the crashed spacecraft early on in the term but they then went onto discovering a crate of strange eggs and producing fantastic writing based on the text 'The Odd Egg'.

Year 3

Inspired by their class text, year 3 have written their own cautionary poem endings. Some copies, signed by the authors are available in the main office for you to read!

Year 2

Bravery day has been a success with children coming into school dressed as their heroes.

Year 4

Developing links with our community, year 4 spent time getting to know some local elderly people. They made gifts, which included recipes, poems and a story about Spring's Child based on their class text.

Year 5

Yesterday Year 5 performed The Tempest to a packed audience. The children have worked hard studying the play, learning their lines and preparing costumes. A magnificent event, well done to all of the children and to Miss Arnold, Miss Berry and the whole Year 5 team.

Year 6

Year 6 have produced exquisitely presented writing portfolios based on the class text. Have a look at some of them displayed in the foyer.

Wellbeing

Our children have spent this half term focussing on our core value of RESILIENCE. They have played games, had discussions and looked at scenarios, which require children to develop their resilience in and beyond the classroom. Here are Year 1 and Year 2 passing a hoop around a circle without letting go of each other's hands.

100th Anniversary of Votes for Women

Children have learned about the suffragist movement in collective worship. They continued their learning in class. We had children marching around school shouting "Votes for Women", placards waving and children writing manifestos. Great work on equality.

Internet Safety Day

Tuesday 6th February was Safer Internet Day 2018. Their motto this year "Create, connect and share respect: A better internet starts with you".

You will have received an email this week sharing tips for parents and carers to keep children safe online at home.

All year groups have looked at age appropriate aspects of online safety. For instance, Year 5 have explored cyberbullying and Year 2 have made online safety posters. Year 3 have been thinking about creating strong passwords and being kind online. They have used their j2webby blogging site to leave kind and helpful comments about each other's work.

It is very important that children attend school every day. This week, well done to Kandinsky.
