This Week's News...

Thank you to everyone for your attendance at parents' evening this week. It was really good to see you all and to share all of the amazing learning that takes place at SJSC.

This week has been anti-bullying week. The children watched a show called "The Power of One" which defined what bullying is (and is not) and what children can do if they are concerned for themselves or others. In class, they have talked more about different types of bullying.

Next week we have a parent café led by Pascale Mathers, our Educational Psychologist. See below for more information.

Have an enjoyable weekend.

Inclusion Parent Cafe

Supporting Sensory-Motor Development

Pascale Mather – Educational Psychologist

Tuesday 20th November 9:00am

Meet our educational psychologist and learn about how we can help our children to be physically and mentally ready to learn.

Do you have concerns about your child's clumsiness, or coordination? Do they fall a lot or have difficulties negotiating obstacles when running or walking?

Do they struggle to ride a bike, or make their legs and arms do different movements for swimming?

Do they struggle to tie their shoe laces, use a knife and fork, dress themselves or cut with scissors?

Do you still have to remind your KS2 children about daily routines? Do they struggle to organise their things and manage their time?

Then the Sensory-Motor Development Parent Café could be interesting to you.....

Parent Cafés

Come along to find out more about what we are doing in school, meet other parents and staff and enjoy a tea/coffee and a biscuit.

Children in Need

Today has been a very spotty day at SJSC. Thank you to everyone who dressed up and donated to Children in Need. Thank you also to school council for selling CIN merchandise all week.

Our buckets were very full this morning. We shall let you know how much we raised next week.

Applying to start primary school in September 2019
