This Week's News...

It's been another wonderful week at St John's and St Clement's.

Our Year 6 children have worked really hard, especially this week when they completed their Statutory End of Key Stage Assessments. We are very proud of them. They enjoyed a picnic in the park yesterday to celebrate.

Monet class had the privilege of meeting a holocaust survivor yesterday at Bell House, Dulwich. There is more about this on page 2.

We hope to see you all at the May Fair tomorrow from 12-3pm. It is a great opportunity to meet other families, have fun and raise money for our school. Remember that next Friday the school is closed for staff training.

Questionnaires – Your Opinion Matters

Following on from our successful OFSTED inspection and our work on engaging curriculum development, this week you will have received an email link to our parents' and carers' questionnaire. We are seeking your views on various aspects of your experience of the school and school life so we can gauge our areas of success and where to focus developments.

Please complete the questionnaire and help us to continue to develop our school for all of the children and the community.

The questionnaire is open until Monday 3rd June 2019. If you have any questions or need any support with accessing the questionnaire please speak to Lucy Wygers or contact lucy.wygers@sjsc.southwark.sch.uk

Kindertransport Event

As part of the Dulwich Festival, Monet class were invited to Bell House, Dulwich to meet Ruth Barnett, a holocaust survivor, and hear her story. Ruth was one of 10,000 Jewish children who were rescued through the Kindertransport operation.

She enthralled the children with her story of how she and her brother travelled from Berlin to England. She was an inspirational lady and the children talked about the visit all the way back to school. Helen Hayes MP also spoke to the children.

Science in Year 4

Year 4 have been developing their STEM and problem solving skills using circuits and true/false statements. What do you think- does a bulb dim when there are more batteries in the circuit?

Dulwich Festival returns from May 10-19 with a fantastic line up of family friendly events, many of them free.

Award-winning children's theatre will be on offer at St Barnabas Parish Hall with the fantastical tale of Tommy Foggo – Superhero, a magical multi-media tale of a life saved by music based on a true story, presented by cellist, baritone and actor Matthew Sharp, who will tour the country with Wallace & Gromit's Musical Marvels after his visit to Dulwich.

Bring a picnic and see the world's first cycling theatre company 'The Handlebards' perform Much Ado About Nothing at Jags Fields.

The Festival Fair on Goose Green will provide fun for all the family with a wide range of stalls and activities including the cheerful community chain of pom-poms and the much-loved donkey rides. The Love West Dulwich and Dulwich Park Fairs will take place on the final weekend of the Festival with a whole host of excitements for all the family.

For another family friendly outing, join the London wildlife Trust for a spring orchard tree care event and picnic. The orchard is being developed by The Dulwich Estate to mark 400 years since Edward Alleyn founded a school, chapel and almshouse in Dulwich. The day promises nature-themed activities for all.
