This Week's News...

This week we have held two parent cafés for our Reception and Year 1 parents. It was great to see so many of you there and to read all of your positive feedback.

On Friday, we held a cake sale, thank you to the PTFA for organising this and for everyone who donated such wonderful cakes.

Next week it is parents' evening. We look forward to seeing you all there.

Digital wellbeing – Guidance for parents

Our overall wellbeing is determined by the physical and emotional experiences we have on a daily basis. As technology continues to be such a huge part of our lives, from the way we represent who we are to the interactions we have with others, it too has an impact on our wellbeing. This is often referred to as your 'digital wellbeing' or 'online wellness.' It is essentially about having an awareness of how being online can make us feel and looking after ourselves and others when online. This can include recognising the impact being online can have on our emotions, mental wellbeing and even on our physical health and knowing what to do if something goes wrong.

Homemade spotty t-shirts are welcomed (use spotty stickers or customise an old t-shirt with felt tips). If children choose to dress up, please could they bring in a small donation (e.g. £1) for Children in Need.

BLACK HISTORY WEEK

In line with our school values of creativity and aspiration, our Black History week focus was on the influence of black artists and musicians on the world today.

Our children learned about inspirational people such as Jean Michel Basquiat, Frank Bowling, Stevie Wonder, Frank Bowling, Misty Copeland, John Boyega, Malorie Blackman and Year 3 learned about different styles of music and the influence each style had the world.
